B Active Plan: Striving to make Birmingham even better!

The Birmingham region has exploded over the past few years and has created a better environment for people to be active and enjoy the great outdoors. Railroad Park, Regions Park, The Rotary Trail, Red Mountain Park and other attractions have provided opportunities for walking, running and biking. With this growth comes challenges and the B-Active Plan is here to help! This plan is intended to help establish a clear vision for short-term and long-term projects that are needed to build a safer, more connected and equitable active transportation system for the region.

The B-Active Plan will get input from the community to find out what projects they think are needed. Things that will be considered include: Where are the major gaps and barriers in the regional bicycle and trail system today? What is needed to make people feel safer when commuting by bicycle? How can we increase connectivity? What improvements would encourage you to walk or bike more often?

The B-Active Plan will kick off the week of April 17th with many opportunities for the public to provide input.
